

Stolle Field Service

One Great Service – One Simple Price

We constantly ask customers how we can improve our quality equipment and service. And the answer came back: “Give us consistent, easy-to-understand pricing that works for anything your field service techs do for us – can or end.” Sounded like a great idea to us – so we did.

Stolle’s new pricing structure is simple – one daily rate for anything. And it covers any of our versatile U.S. based Field Service Technicians (Centennial, Colorado, or Canton or Sidney, Ohio). You still get an associate that’s trained in every aspect of the assembly, operation and maintenance of our products and systems. Since most of our field technicians also assemble the original machinery, they are uniquely qualified to assist you with new equipment start-ups, product or size changeovers, troubleshooting, major system overhauls and rebuilds or technical reviews and consultation.

And you still get an associate that’s backed by the Stolle’s unique blend of leading technology and superior OEM parts. And you still get these associates and parts when you need them – anytime 365 days a year. You just get all of this in a simple to understand format that makes it easy to budget and schedule.

Experience has proven that it’s a wise decision to have your equipment maintained by the people who know and understand it best – and now it’s simpler to get that done. Stolle – listening to you.
